Visa and Entry

You need identity papers that are valid for your whole stay in Germany.
If you need any further documents depends on whether you are an EU-national (plus Iceland, Liechtenstein, Switzerland and Norway) or a non-EU-national.

As an EU-citizen you do not need a visa or entry permit for a short stay in Germany, but if you plan to stay longer than three months you have to visit the registration office ("Einwohnermeldeamt") that has a campus branch - at the latest by one week after you moved in - where they will certify your stay here ("Freizügigkeitsbescheinigung"). The service team of the Bremen University's International Office will assist you with this task.

All non-EU and non-EEA-nationals require a visa for stays in Germany. (There are exceptions for semi-annual visits of up to three months for nationals of those countries for which the European Community has abolished the visa requirement). You can get your visa at your national German embassy or consulates-general. All visa fees are 60 Euros - fee-reductions are available for researchers in particular.

You should apply early for your visa, particularly with regard to applications for visas entitling the holder to a longer stay or to take up gainful employment may take several months to process.

You can apply for your visa online.

Generally you need the following documents for your visa:

- The filled out application form (3x)
- biometric ID-Pictures, size 3,5 x 4,5 cm (4x, three times pasted in the application form, one for the visa)
- copies of your valid identity papers (2x)
- copies of your confirmation of covering your costs (2x)
- copies of your scholarship certificate / contract of labor (2x)
- as Ph.D. student copies of the approval document of the University of Bremen (2x)
- copies of your final degree (2x)
- copies of your clearance certificate ("polizeiliches Führungszeugnis"), including your birth name, not older than three month (2x)
- copies of your registration card ("Meldebescheinigung") in your home country (2x)
- copies of your birth certificate (2x)

You have to bring original certificates, documents and passport to the embassy.
All documents need a notarial approved translation.

If you want to work in Germany and you are no EU - or EEA-national and your homeland is not Australia, Israel, Japan, Canada, New-Zealand, South-Korea or the United States of America, you also need a residence title for specific purposes ("Aufenthaltstitel"). Therefore you have to approach with the aliens authority ("Ausländerbehörde") in Bremen before you come to Germany.

I have applied for a visa / I don't need a visa for my stay

Moving through Bremen

BSAG (Bremer Straßenbahn-AG) – public transport within Bremen

The BSAG offers a wide public transport system all over Bremen. Since the fares for public transport are quite expensive, you should take advantage of the discounts offered for buying group, day, week and monthly season or even whole year tickets. These can be bought at the main railway station or at Domsheide in the city centre. They are not obtainable on board the buses and trams. For an online time-table or more infos do visit the website of the BSAG: www.bsag.de/eng/index.php

By bike

Bremen is renowned for being friendly to cyclists. You can purchase very reasonably priced used bicycles either at the flea market, or via private advertisements in the newspapers, especially the advertising newspaper A-Z (see below), or at auctions of lost property held by the City authorities.

Taxi-companies

There are many taxi companies in Bremen which will take you securely and at a reasonable price from one place to another. There are e.g. Taxi-Ruf Bremen (Phone: 0421/1 40 14) or Taxi Roland GmbH (Phone: 0421/14 43-3). In Bremen Nord you can call Funkwagen Susi (Phone 0421/62 11 11).

The Mitfahrzentrale – agency for arranged lifts

The Mitfahrzentrale arranges journeys for private persons to share costs travelling in other persons vehicles. The system works by paying a brokerage fee to the Mitfahrzentrale and sharing the fuels costs with the driver. www.mitfahrzentrale.de or www.mitfahrgelegenheit.de

Carsharing

There are two carsharing agencies in Bremen. The well known carsharing offers of the Deutsche Bahn and a private carsharing company named Cambio.

Schools and child care

Prepare

Discover

There is a compulsory education for all children within the age of 6 and 15. School days are structured in four years of primary education and a minimum of five more years of secondary education. Secondary education exist in forms of „Hauptschulen“ up to the 9th or 10th grade, that leads to a first school leaving certificate; in forms of „Realschulen“ up to t 10th grade, that leads to a General Certificate of Secondary Education; and in forms of „Gymnasien“, that includes 12 years of schooling and leads to the „Abitur“ a graduation that allows the graduate to study at a university. Please note that Germany’s school system constantly changes to offer the best possibilities to all children.

Public schools are for free and the language of instruction is mainly German. As a general rule children go to a school in the school district (Schulbezirk“) they live. You can find your school here.

There is a privately managed international school in Bremen. Its language of instruction is English and its highest graduation is internationally approved for studying at a university. Enrolling in classes is possible at any time of the year.

If your children are younger than 6 years old, you might want to send them to kindergarden or a day care center, of which you will find plenty all around bremen. You can use this website to look up which child care centers are near your flat.

Here you can find all the child care centers of the KITA Bremen, which offers qualified child care services for children from the age of 0 to 14 all over Bremen.

More information on child care and the special services concerning this matter offered by the university you can find here.
